Turning raw data into intelligence

AiRCO — AI Revolution Company Pvt Ltd — is a Mumbai-based data analytics company that transforms raw, unstructured data into meaningful, structured information.

We combine artificial intelligence with advanced analytical techniques to convert complex, fragmented data into clear, actionable insight — so organisations can understand their data, uncover opportunities and make better decisions.

Credentials

ISO 27001, GDPR, DPIIT Startup India, MSME Udyam

Built for real business problems

Too much data, too little visibility

Information is scattered across cameras, calls, documents and systems that don't talk to each other.

Manual review doesn't scale

Reading every statement, watching every feed or reviewing every call by hand takes time teams don't have.

Security can't watch everything

A threat shouldn't depend on someone looking at the right screen at the right moment.

Slow document review delays decisions

Bank statements and tenders add days to processes that should take hours.

Sales time spent on wrong leads

Outreach goes to low-intent prospects while high-value opportunities wait.

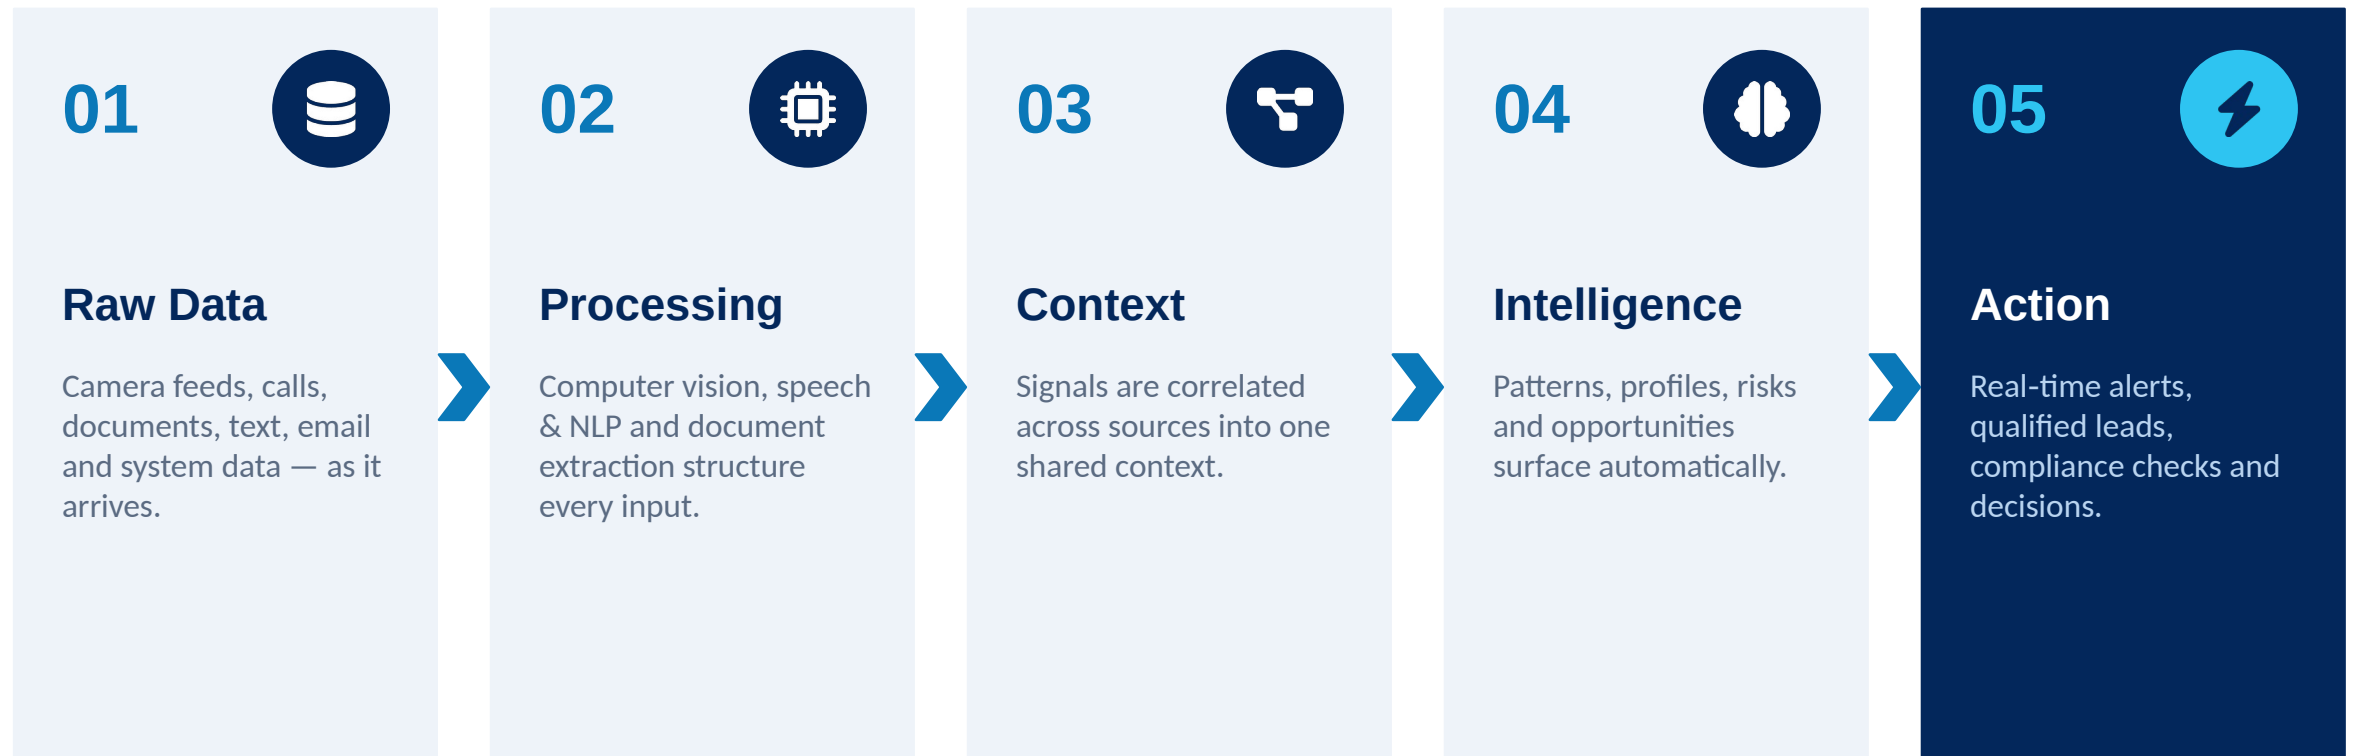

Infrastructure decisions carry risk

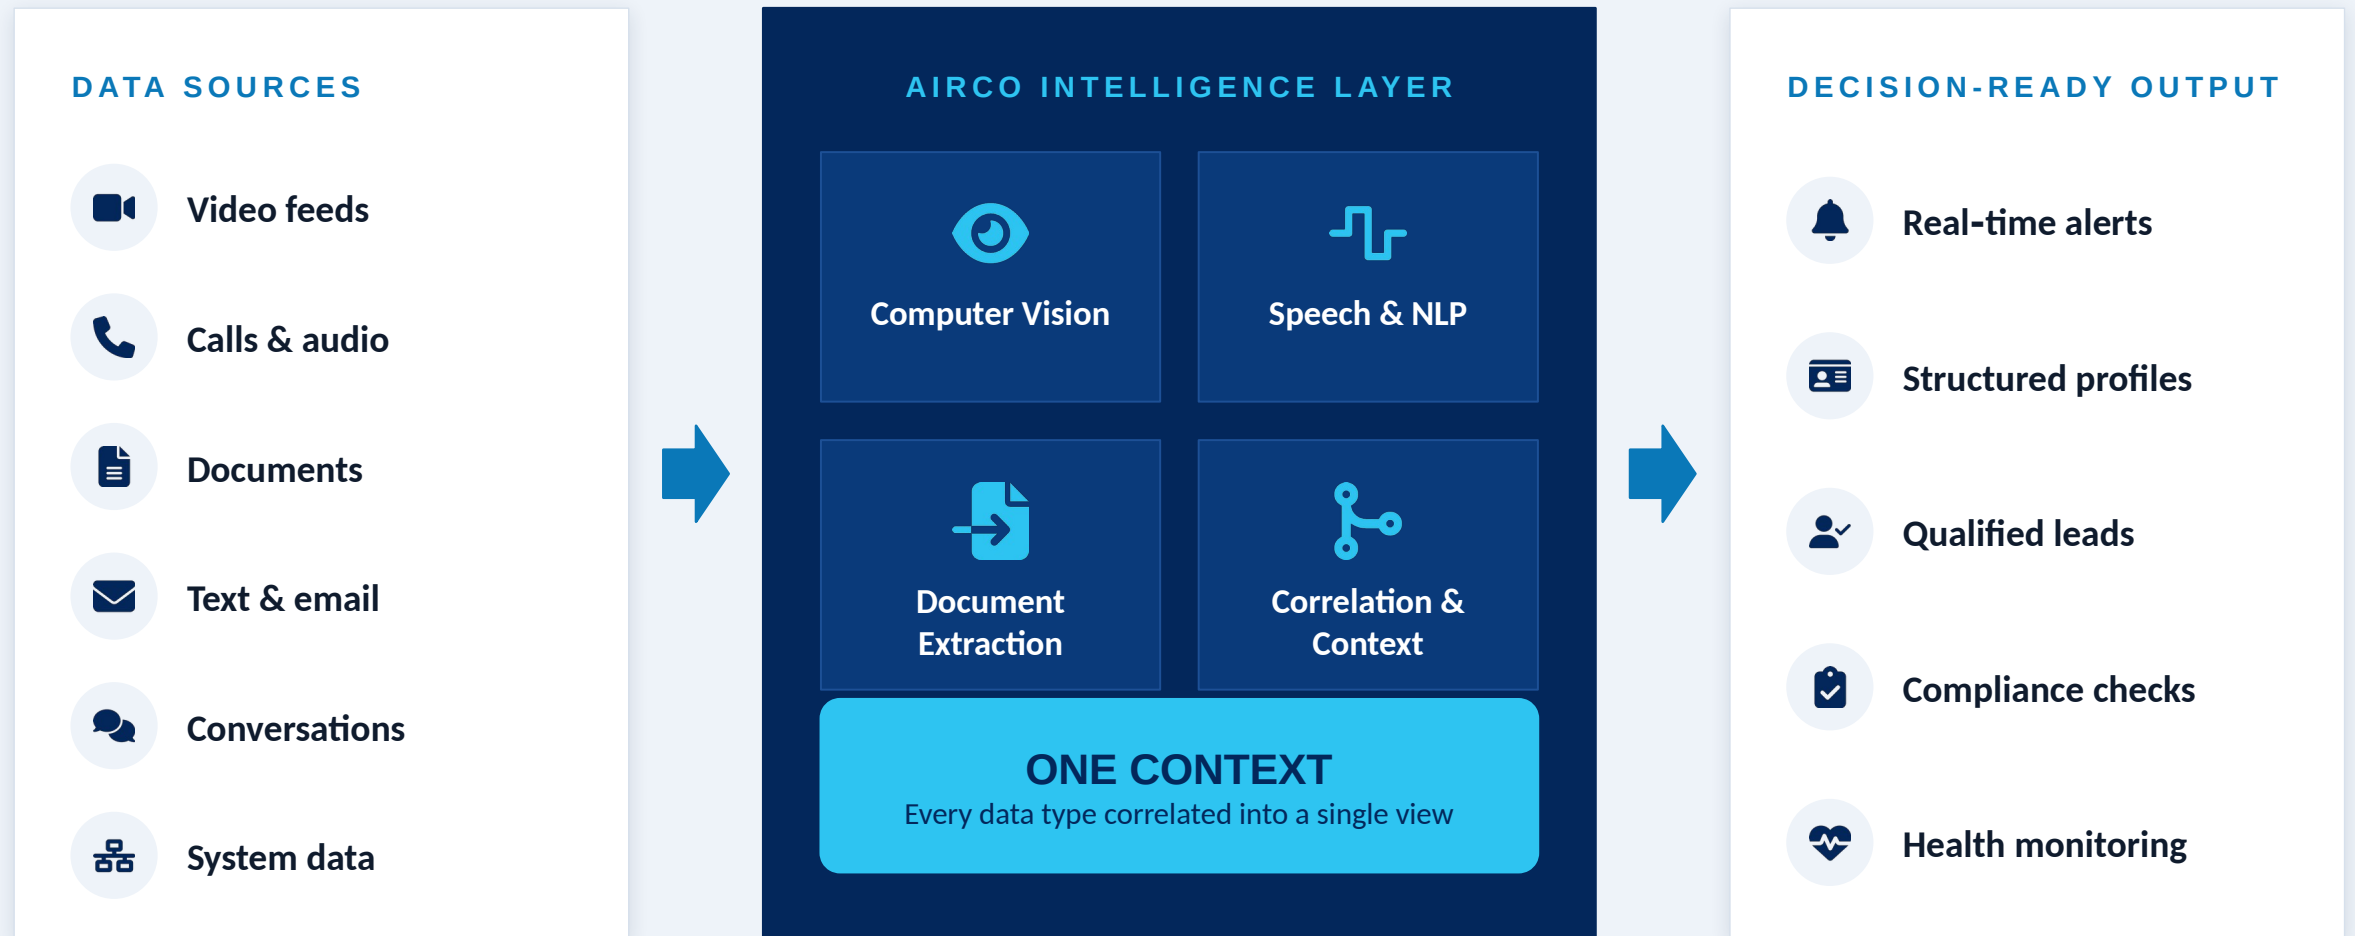

Data centre choices are expensive to get wrong without structured analysis.

From raw data to action

AiRCO structures the chaos. Fragmented inputs become a single intelligence layer your teams can act on.

How your data becomes intelligence

What we deliver for partners and enterprises

Video Analytics

AI video analytics built to meet the compliance, ruggedness and scale requirements of demanding sectors — turning cameras into an active layer of protection and insight.

Geospatial Intelligence

Mapping, analysis and intelligence layers that convert raw imagery and data into actionable insight for government and enterprise use cases.

Custom Software Development

End-to-end custom platforms, adaptable to partner and end-customer requirements — from integration to full product builds.

Dedicated Teams

Dedicated resources for every partnership, ensuring consistent ownership and fast turnaround rather than shared support.
